Workshop: 17th - 18th January. Linz, Austria

Presenters: Dr Rob Long, Rob Sams and Gabrielle Carlton

Special European Guest Presenter - Michael Kruger
Are you Risk Intelligent?

Understanding the way people make judgments and decisions is fundamental to developing risk intelligence.

The Social Psychology of Risk and cultural factors are critical in tackling the challenges of risk in the workplace.

The Program gives participants an understanding of the terrain of risk. Participants will receive exposure to pioneering work in The Social Psychology of Risk (SPoR) and skill development in Risk Intelligence.

Who should attend?

• Leaders and Managers
• Business Risk Professionals
• Safety Professionals
• Security professionals
• Operations Managers
• Risk Managers
• Site Managers
• HR Professionals
• Project Managers

Training Strategies

• Interactive Presentations
• Experiential Learning
• Micro Training
• Semiotic Mapping
• Group Work

Learning Outcomes

By the conclusion of the program participants will:

• Develop a stronger capability in Risk Intelligence.
• Understand how the Social Psychology of Risk improves risk management.
• Better understand the nature of culture, the collective unconscious, language, discourse and semiotics as ‘frames’ for Risk Intelligence.
• Become alert to ‘priming’, ‘framing’ and ‘anchoring’ key messages about risk, including knowledge of heuristics and decision making.
• Learn about the hidden aspects of cultural formation and shaping.
• Access a range of unique Social Psychology of Risk tools that help influence conversations and decision making in risk at work.
• Learn new skills in motivation and perception that form the foundation for risk intelligence.
• Workshop and practice skills in cultural decision making.

“Problems can not be solved by thinking within the framework in which they were created”

Albert Einstein
Program Outline

Day One

- What is The Social Psychology of Risk?
- Understanding One Brain Three Minds
- What is Risk Intelligence and Risk maturity
- Humans as Social beings
- Key elements in 'Social Sensemaking'
- Experiments in culture and the Collective Unconscious.
- Messages, Language and Visual/Spacial Influences
- Micro Training (digital and video activities)
- Semiotics and Risk Principles
- Understanding how Risk is Amplified or Attenuated by Semiotics
- Obedience, Control and Motivation

Day Two

- The Challenges of Complexity
- Why risk is a Wicked Problem
- Tackling the Challenges of Heuristics, Affects and Automaticity
- Workspace, Headspace and Groupspace Tools
- The Psychology of Goals
- The Nature of By-Products and Trade Offs
- Fragility, Anti-Fragility and Resilience
- Everyday Actions in Influencing Decision Making
- When behaviours Don't Make Sense
- What can I do?
- Tools to Tackle Risk
- Becoming More Risk Intelligent, High reliability
Presenters/Facilitators

Dr Robert Long
Executive Director
Human Dymensions
Rob is an International author, presenter and educator. Rob is the founder of The Social Psychology of Risk (SPoR) and the Centre for Leadership and Learning in Risk (CLLR). The work of Dr Long is delivered globally with a new office opened in Linz Austria in 2016. He has published five very successful books and is the principle writer for safetyrisk.com and resides in Canberra Australia.

Robert Sams
Executive Director
Dolphyn Leadership and Risk
Rob is an International author, presenter and founder of ‘Social Sensemaking’. Rob’s new approach to tackling risk through Social Sensemaking is widely sought after with several International consultancies in 2016. Rob serves on the Board of Lifeline Australia in Maitland and lives in Newcastle.

Gabrielle Carlton
Executive Director
Resilyence
Gabrielle is the founder of the social psychology of Resilyence. She specialises in the upbuilding of communities and organisations as collectives in tackling the challenges of risk. Gabrielle uses the unique MiProfile tool in organisational and culture diagnostics to build resilyence in organisations. Gabrielle is currently working on a book on Resilyence and resides in Canberra Australia.

Special European Perspective

Guest Presenter
Michael Kruger
Author of It Takes Two to Tango.
Michael shares his extensive practical experience in risk and the law through his book. His European case studies target real events and scenarios with a focus on actions, real challenges and practical outcomes using social psychology of risk tools. Michael lives in Austria.

Organisational

Euro 1.450, -(excl. VAT)

Participants receive:
- A compendium and training manual (70 pages)
- A suite of practical SPoR tools
- Dr Long’s book Risky Conversations and usb talking book
- Rob Sam’s book Social Sensemaking
- Michael Kruger’s book It Takes Two to Tango
- A usb pen with full copy of presentations
- Lunch provided

Hotel Courtyard Linz
A-4020 Linz, Europaplatz 2
January 17th 9am-4.30pm
January 18th 9am-4.30pm

Contacts

Unternehmensberatung & Sicherheitstechnik Ing Ronald Hanke
Buro Wien: A-1220 Wien; Schuttaustrasse 44a/13 – Buro Steiermark: 8430 Kaindorf a.d. Sulm; Sailergasse 1a www.ubsh.eu - office@ubsh.eu
t. +43 (0) 699 1 203 58 63

cllr.com.au
admin@cllr.com.au
t. +61 (0) 424 547 115

REGISTER HERE